SENIOR CLASS OF BUTLER HIGH SCHOOL

Butler, Indiana

Foreword

ANOTHER year gone by—another Tropaeum—and now we're looking ahead to years in different surroundings. Probably then more than now, we'll appreciate these scenes, these days in Butler High School.

THEY SERVE OUR COUNTRY!

WE HONOR the classmates who serve our country in this global conflict. Our prayers for well-being and safe return are with these boys and all graduates of Butler High who bravely serve.

*Harry Evanoff	Army
Robert (Jake) Rex	Navy
Darrell Wilson	U. S. M. S.
Jack Jenks	Army
Donald Houser	U. S. M. S.
John Boyer	Army
Henry Carr	Army
Lynn Bender	Navy

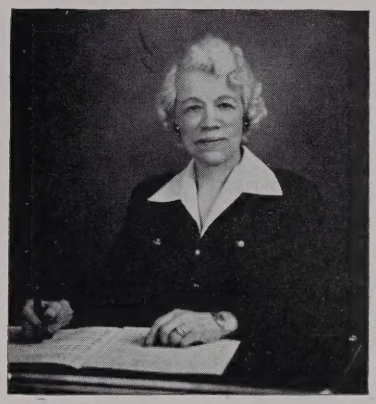
* We heard with sorrow the news of the death of Harry Evanoff, who was killed in action in France. May his soul rest in peace!

We Dedicate Our Tropaeum!



LIDA M. STAGE

For her noteworthy example of courageous and gracious living.

For her sincere interest in the students.

For her trustworthy friendship to everyone.

For her ability to develop character as well as music.

For these and other admirable qualities, Mrs. Stage is endeared to us.

We appreciatively dedicate the Tropaeum of 1945 to Mrs. Stage.

In Appreciation of Mrs. Oberlin!

PRUE A. OBERLIN

For her untiring effort throughout our high school years.

For the warm spot she always has in her heart for freshmen.

For being one of our sponsors when we were Sophomores.

For her patience in directing the Junior Play.

For her guidance in the work of this Tropaeum, and again for her patience in directing the Senior Play.

Principally, for being a friend to us all we express our appreciation to Mrs. Oberlin.

From the Superintendent's Office

TO THE GRADUATES OF
BUTLER HIGH SCHOOL:

Your request to write for the Tropaeum of 1945 came as a surprise and also as a pleasure. One cannot serve for sixteen years in the schools of any community without feeling a sense of pride in the accomplishments that have been made. These I will not recall for they are well known to each of you who have helped to bring them about. I will not say farewell to you, the graduates, or to you, the students and teachers, for in the years to come the memories of the days we spent in Butler High will brighten with the burnishing of time.

More than six hundred of you have graduated during this period and as I look over the list I note that one hundred and fifty of you are in the service of our country; others are in the various professions and still others are in industry. Many of you have established homes of your own and your children are now taking the places which you held when I came to Butler.

To those of you in the service of our country, away from home and those you love, I trust you will soon be privileged to return and carry on the work you were preparing to do while a student here. May you enter upon it with the same earnestness, enthusiasm, and ambition that you did your work in school.

I am aware, too, that some will not return. As I write these lines, six are sleeping beneath the green of foreign lands or within the depths of the deep blue sea. Butler is justly proud that her sons and daughters so willingly offered themselves that the ruthless hand of the destroyer might be stayed. They went forth not knowing when, if ever, they would return. Theirs was a sincere offering that we might be free to enjoy the blessings of our land. The nobility of their service and the glory of their sacrifice will keep for each of us a gleam on memory's page which time can never dim.

And, finally, I wish for all of you the best in life that is possible for you to attain and trust that you will ever strive to continue the splendid educational program in Butler which you helped to build.

Your friend,

JOHN PAUL PRICE.

(Mr. Price leaves Butler High School this year after sixteen years of service to the school and community. He has given unstintingly of his time and talents and has accomplished many worthwhile attainments. Our sincere best wishes go with him always.)

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF '45

In the autumn of 1941, we enrolled as sixty enthusiastic young students. Within two or three weeks, we became acquainted with the daily routine and prepared to deal with our trials and difficulties, as well as our duties and privileges. We organized our class by electing officers. Ruth Hagerty was elected president; Lester Rohrs, vice-president; Joan Houck, secretary-treasurer. During this first year, we were allowed to participate in a variety of activities including Glee Club, Junior and Senior Band, Dough Girls, F.F.A., basketball, baseball, and track.

As we began our second year, our class numbered forty-eight. Several had dropped out for various reasons. Two new students, Dorothy Camp and Harry Evanoff came to join our group. Various members of our class, who were eligible, enjoyed the privileges of joining the Blue-Triangle and Hi-Y. The officers for this term were: Joan Houck, president; Gene Campbell, vice-president; Dorothy Camp, secretary-treasurer.

In the Junior year, the class numbered forty-seven, including most of our old members and two new ones, Donna Hinshaw and Alice Willard. During the previous vacation, two of our classmates, Lynn Bender and Harry Evanoff, answered the call of our Country by serving in the U. S. Navy or Army. For this year, we elected Donald Houser, president; Lois Tomlinson, vice-president; Dorothy Camp, secretary-treasurer. Some of our members were privileged to show their ability by portraying characters in the Junior Play, "A Mind of Her Own." The cast with the aid of Mrs. Verl Oberlin, Director, made it a success. With pleasure, we sponsored the annual Junior-Senior Reception. An Old-Fashioned Garden theme was used. Thus, we completed our third year; and during our annual three-months' vacation, we awaited our last one.

Thirty-eight members returned to continue our last course of education for life. Several more of our classmates, Donald Houser, Darrell Wilson, Jake Rex, Jack Jenks, and John Boyer answered the call of our Country by serving in the U. S. Navy, Marines, or Army. Now our staff of officers consists of Amos Snyder, president; Donna Dielman, vice-president; Gene Campbell, secretary; and Richard Carpenter, treasurer. Richard Carpenter was also elected editor-in-chief of our annual, the "Tropaeum." The Senior Play was a farce-comedy entitled, "The Cannibal Queen." Once more, a number of the class revealed their talents with the earnest aid of Mrs. Verl Oberlin, Director. Butler High was host to the Central High School of Fort Wayne in the broadcast of the Junior Town Meeting. Two of our classmates, Joan Houck and Ruth Hagerty, were chosen to speak over the radio. The subject of discussion was, "Should Students Be Compelled to Attend School Until They Are Eighteen Years of Age?" While our friends and relatives are fighting for us in this torment of war, we tried to help by keeping up our sales of War Bonds and Stamps.

With earnest effort, we have strived to obtain our diplomas. Upon receiving them, all will be glad, but some will have a faint feeling of regret that our school life is past. Golden friendships have formed in our happy school days; and as we wander apart, we will have the sweet memories of them. Now we shall take our places in the world to help retain the freedom of which we are so proud!

Esther I. Spake.

What is To Be?

IT IS 1953 and this is an account of my trip throughout the United States as a result of winning the contest for my 25 additional words or less on why I like the new Fluffy Duffy soap chips invented by the two well-known chemists, Florabelle Dixon and Rosemary Ramey. I had packed immediately and called for my taxi "The Camp and Call Special." As I reached the plane, the aviator, Billy Albertson was preparing to take off. The plane was one of those modeled by Jim Sudborough. On the plane I noticed the former Dolores Krontz, sitting across the aisle from me. She informed me that the plane is now equipped with a nurse, Ruth Hagerty, and doctor, Dick Carpenter, since Billy has had so many crackups.

As we crossed Wisconsin, Dolores pointed out the Campbell Dairy Farm, and told me that Gene was married and has four girls. While we were talking she also told me that Henry Carr is now the new manager of the Ford Automobile Industry. When we passed over Lansing, I learned that Duane Whitman and wife had recently purchased a new home there. Evidently Duane developed a way with the women.

The Stewardess, Joan Houck, handed me a newspaper. On the front page I noticed an article by Esther Spake, which stated that Amos Snyder was appointed new Secretary of Agriculture. Just then Dolores called my attention to a ranch near Denver, which was owned by Delbert Creager and Max Gaff.

We passed over a bridge in Tulsa, Oklahoma, that was being constructed under the direction of Engineer Leon Ulm and financed by LeRoy Keller, who is the owner of the Ladies Lingerie Corp. of Tulsa. Then we were told to fasten our safety belts for we were going to land. When we started up again, the former Donna Hinshaw and Ilene Scott had joined us. They were going to Hawaii where their husbands are stationed. No sooner had we started than we had to land to search for Charles Lott's plane that had been lost somewhere in our vicinity. We soon found where he had crash-landed. Luckily no one was injured. Donna Keefer and Normagene Mullet were passengers, returning from a shopping tour in Paris.

We were to be detained here for about three days while our plane carried Charles' passengers back, so I decided to look Tulsa over. My companion and I were walking along when we soon heard queer noises coming out of a very beautiful home. We learned that the former Phyllis Souder and her husband were fighting again. The young lady who told us seemed very nice and we then recognized her as none other than the whiz in shorthand in years gone by, Erline Peters. She asked us to be her guests at the concert hall where Alice Willard was giving a concern on her accordion. That night we stayed at Ruth Houser's El Swank Hotel. The next night we decided to attend the opening of the High-Hat Nightclub which was under the management of Verl Snyder. Lewis Blanchard and his Swingsters were the hit of the evening. Edeena Roleski and her dancing partner were the stars of the floor show. Later Verl told us that she was none other than Edna May Rohlof, our high school classmate.

In the morning I awoke with a start to find that I had nearly missed the daily episode of my favorite soap opera "Our Gal Monday," with my old classmate Lois Tomlinson as Monday. Just as I settled down to listen, the door bell rang, and I received a telegram saying that the contest was a fake and I had never won any award, so I prepared to return home. Before I left I phoned Jeanette Freidenberger, who is president of a very exclusive finishing school for girls. On the trip home, I met Ina Norrick on her way to Hollywood to help edit a gossip column. As I got off the plane, Coach Dorsey Bellamy and Strong Man John Boyer boarded it.

When I reached home, tired and weary, I made a vow never to enter another contest.

—Donna Dielman.

We Leave You Stuff!

CLASS WILL

WE, the Seniors of nineteen hundred and forty-five, after toiling for many long terms for the exalted position which we hold, do hereby in a feeling of extreme generosity, bequeath these, our cherished possessions to those who will follow in our footsteps. We are confident that they will live up to our noble examples in school citizenship, and our untiring devotion to study, and we hope that this Will may be of aid to them in their endeavor.

I, Billy Albertson, will my height to Louis Bal.

I, Dorsey Bellamy, will my capability in basketball to Richard Friedenberger.

I, Lewis Blanchard, will my second wind to Allen Dirrim.

I, John Boyer, will my nickname, "Tarzan" to Duane Cather.

I, Velma Call, will my self-confidence to Rhea Blanchard.

I, Dorothy Camp, will my ability to get in trouble for riding with the neighbor boys to Carol Lee.

I, Richard Carpenter, will my nickname, "Muscles" to George Smith.

I, Henry Carr, will my shy and bashful ways to Wendell David.

I, Delbert Creager, will my ability to catch fish to Lynn Fuller.

I, Donna Dielman, will my late slips and those little green passes to anyone who wants to get in as bad as I do.

I, Florabelle Dixon, will my Edgerton boy-friends to Glenora Freeburn.

I, Jeanette Freidenberger, will my perfect attendance record to Mary Dohner.

I, Max Gaff, will my ability to pitch baseball to Richard Flynn.

I, Ruth Hagerty, will my hair styles to Helen Barkman.

We, Donna Hinshaw and Ilene Scott, will our devotion to the Navy and our dignity as Seniors to Eileen Culler.

I, Joan Houck, do hereby will my nickname "Jo" to any underclassman who wants it.

I, Ruth Houser, will my love for roller skating to Polly Baldwin.

I, Donna Keefer, will my ability to go "steady" to Maxine Wann.

I, Leroy Keller, will my quiet, reserved manner to Ralph Jennings.

I, Dolores Krontz, will my engagement ring to Frances Wilson. (That's a hint, "Flappy.")

I, Charles Lott, will my sleepy study habits to Junior Price.

And You're Welcome!

I, Normagene Mullett, will my diamond ring to "Dawnie" Kline. (That MIGHT be one way to keep it in the family.)

I, Ina Norrick, will my Kendallville boy-friend to Gertrude Harris. (I'm sure Harold won't mind.)

I, Erline Peters, will my ability to get my daily assignments to Wayne Frakes.

I, Rosemary Ramey, will my harlequin glasses to Marilou Smurr.

I, Edna Rohlof, will my appreciation of music to Harold Derrow.

I, Amos Snyder, will my office of president to anyone short of a job.

I, Verl Snyder, will my ability to fascinate the Waterloo girls to William Schimpf, Kendall Wilson, etc. (Good luck, boys!)

I, Phyllis Souder, will my three afternoon library periods to Keith Upp. (Now you can catch up on your sleep, "Pete.")

I, Esther Spake, do hereby will my position as assistant office girl to Donzella Smith.

I, James Sudbcrough, will my swimming ability to Jack Michael.

I, Leon Ulm, will my ability to play a cornet to Mildred Steckley.

I, Duane Whitman, will my gentlemanly manner to Lyle Call.

I, Alice Willard, will my love for higher mathematics to Hulda Norrick. (I hope you enjoy these classes as much as I have.)

I, Lois Tomlinson, will my scholarship awards to Jack Oberlin.

In testimony whereof, we hereunto set our hand and seal, and declare this to be our last will and testament, this twenty-third day of May, in the year nineteen hundred and forty-five.

Signed: THE SENIOR CLASS

Our Poem!

GOODBYE TO BUTLER HIGH!

We are remembered well, we know,
By those who knew us, when
Our pigtails and our freckles
Marked us plainly, "almost ten."

We're the angels—(with dirty faces)
Who put tacks upon the chair,
And sacrificed our own pet mice—
To give teacher "dear" a scare.

Yes, the teachers can remember
That we laughed and whispered gaily;
While upon their troubled heads,
Grey hairs sprouted daily.

These memories will go with us;
Happy thoughts of carefree days.
We'll find them again returning
As we travel our separate ways.

As we leave our books and pencils,
And emerge into the world
Of disorder and confusion;
Of dark battle flags unfurled—

We would linger here a moment,
Try to tell you if we could
That we'll work to make the future
Safe for all that's right and good.

To work for a bright tomorrow—
To keep democracy alive;
This is our task—we'll do it!
We're the class of '45!

—By Ruth Hagerty.

Feature!

Billy Albertson having a secret love affair.

Dorsey Bellamy playing a piccolo in the band.

Lewis Blanchard as a ladies' man.

John Boyer in a G. I. Haircut. (We liked it long, Tarzan)

Velma Mae Call refusing masculine attention.

Dorothy Camp preferring tall men. (Short boys are O. K., Too, Dot.)

Gene Campbell with a perfect attendance record.

Henry Ford Carr driving a Chevrolet. (What's in a name, Henry?)

Dick Carpenter without his "muscles."

Delbert Creager missing a good day of fishing to go to school.

Donna Dielman suffering from an inferiority complex.

Florabelle Dixon disliking a "dude."

Jeanette Freidenberger breaking her heart over a mere man.

Max Gaff worrying over anything.

Ruth Hagerty being tongue-tied.

Joan Houck preferring the older, mature type of man.

Ruth Houser without that box of stationery. (Do you write him daily or hourly?)

Donna Keefer becoming an old maid.

LeRoy Keller being a heavyweight wrestler.

Dolores Krontz with her third finger, left hand unadorned.

Charles Lott as the obedient, retiring type.

Normagene Mullett without an up-to-date wardrobe.

Ina Norrick responding quickly in class.

Erline Peters being guilty of disorderly conduct.

Rosemary Ramey without her bangs.

Edna Rohlof thinking "Friday" was unlucky. (We don't mean the 13th, Edna.)

Ilene Scott not dreaming of the day someone "Knox" at her door.

Amos Snyder as a "one-girl" man.

Verl Snyder confining his interests in the opposite sex to Butler.

Phyllis Souder riding in a modern car. (Kenny's Ford gets around, we're told.)

Esther Spake disregarding the call of a "Bell."

Jim Sudborough playing classical music.

Lois Tomlinson without her "strong" devotion to St. Joe.

Leon Ulm as the strong, silent type.

Duane Whitman inviting the attention of the "fair" sex.

Alice Willard without her math book.

The basketball season opened with the usual hopes and question marks! The fans witnessed some real thrillers—those breath-takers with Columbia City, Auburn, Garrett, Waterloo and Angola! Slashed fingers, ankle injuries and finally two appendectomies limited our victories at the end of the season. Auburn won the sectional, by defeating Ashley in the finals.

THE 1944 baseball season found Butler ready for a good year with four of last year's regular players back.

Seven games were played, and Butler won 5 of the 7. The score of the first was Butler 4, Hicksville 0, the others were: Waterloo 6, Butler 4; Butler 9, Ashley 2; Butler 7, Waterloo 6; Butler 7, Hicksville 1.

In the Corner Conference Butler played Waterloo at Butler in the Semi-Finals, beating them 4 to 3. After defeating Waterloo, Butler went to Angola to play their team in the finals. Angola won 7 to 1.

Our regular players are as follows:

Flynn	1st	Lehner	C	Johnson	CF	David	Sub

BUTLER High School experienced one of her best years, as far as the won and lost column is concerned, in track competition. The Senior Class seemed to be the nucleus of the squad, but all classes were represented in all the meets.

The first meet of the season was a triangular event at Butler with Waterloo and Hicksville competing. The final score was Butler 94, Waterloo 32, Hicksville 7. In this meet, Lewis Blanchard set a new school record of 4:41 in the one mile run.

On April 13, Garrett, Waterloo and Butler had a triangular meet at Garret. The result of this meet was Butler 69, Garrett 43, Waterloo 8. Then on April 17, the Windmills "did themselves proud" by defeating Auburn and Waterloo in the triangular meet at Auburn to the tune of Butler 69, Auburn 37, Waterloo 11.

The Corner Conference Meet was held at Garrett this year with Angola, Waterloo, Wolcottville, and Butler planning to be present. However, came the day of the meet and only Waterloo and Butler were present. Butler won by the score of 102 to 62, winning 11 of the thirteen first places and 8 of the eleven second places.

As this goes to press, Butler is planning to meet at Bryan, a field day May 16, and is entering in 6 events in Ft. Wayne Sectional on May 12. We are hoping our star miler, Lewis Blanchard (pictured right), will qualify for the State Meet on May 19.

Butler is Famous for Her Band!

UNDER the leadership of Mrs. Lida M. Stage the Butler High School Band has been continuously one of Northeastern Indiana's outstanding bands.

Our first engagement this year was at the DeKalb County Fair. We played at basketball games and gave floor formations for part of the games.

In October the Band Parents organization sponsored a Carnival in the High School gymnasium to help raise funds for new uniforms. We also had great success in selling magazine subscriptions for the same purpose.

The uniforms arrived and we wore them for the first time at the musical contest and festival at Fort Wayne, April 14, 1945. Judges praised the fine appearance of our band. Attractive and neat are these black uniforms with gold braid and trimmings and white Sam Brown belts. The caps are topped with colorful gold plumes.

In the contest our Band won a first division rating. Judges termed the band "splendid" and commended us for a fine performance and maturity of style in playing.

The school and band pupils are indebted to Mrs. Kathryn Miller who substituted for Mrs. Stage when the latter could not fill her usual place.

Individual musicians and ensembles further upheld Butler's musical reputation by their performances.

A different system was used this year for the solo and ensemble entries. Contestants could enter in any of five groups which were: Group 1, for participants performing difficult music; Group 2, for those performing medium difficult music; Group 3, for those performing easier music; Group 4, for those performing elementary music; Group 5, for participants in sixth grade and below.

The awards were as follows: High school band, Div. 1 in class C: Brass sextette composed of Leon Ulm, Hal Sudborough, Janet Houck, Amos Snyder, Dick Brown and Jim Sudborough, Div. 1 in Group 1; Saxophone quartet composed of Velma Call, Lee Carpenter, Dorothy Camp and Velma Dohner, Div. 3, in Group 2; Cornet Solo, Leon Ulm, Div. 2 in Group 1; Cornet solo, Hal Sudborough, Div. 1 in Group 2; Janet Houck piano, Div. 1 in Group 1; Marilyn Grube, piano, Div. 1 in Group 1; Jane Maxton, piano, Div. 2 in Group 2; Marilou Smurr, piano, Div. 1 in Group 2; Nancy Underhill, piano, Div. 1 in Group 4; Nancy Springer, vocal solo, Div. 3 in Group 2; Twirling ensemble composed of Polly Baldwin and Iris McKee Div. 2 in Group 2.

ONE of the honorary organizations of Butler High is the Girl Reserves which is a branch of the Y. W. C. A. Membership is offered to sophomore and junior students with the average grade of "B" and all senior girls are invited to join.

The new officers were installed on a beautiful autumn eve. The following week an informal initiation was held, starting at the time school commenced in the morning and ending with an informal party in the evening. The gay and carefree time that we had will be held in the memories of G. R.. members.

The club sold hot dogs at basketball games and had many entertaining parties during the school year.

Miss Allmann is the Club Sponsor. Officers are Donna Hinshaw, President; Donna Keefer, Vice-President; Donna Dielman, Secretary; Dolores Krontz, Treasurer.

THE Hi-Y is an organization of boys in a high school, or a community committed to the Hi-Y purpose—to create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character—and to develop a stimulating program aimed to carry forward this purpose.

The Butler chapter, chartered in 1923, is composed of eligible sophomore and junior boys and all senior boys who wish to join. This year there were eighteen members in the club.

As its contribution to the war effort, the club conducted a scrap drive which resulted in collecting several tons of waste paper. During its regular meetings the club carried on programs built around the purpose for which it was organized.

The officers are: Amos Snyder, President; Gene Campbell, Vice-President; Lewis Blanchard, Sec'y-Treas; Leon Ulm, Sergeant-at-arms; Sponsor, Mr. Kenton McCrory.

On January 26, 1945, the Seniors presented the three-act farce "The Cannibal Queen," directed by Mrs. Oberlin.

The story is laid in the lobby of the Craig House, a small town hotel run by Mrs. Craig. Bruce Clyde, a newspaper editor is about to be fired by Julia Boyd unless he digs up something sensational to boost the circulation of her paper. Bruce is in love with Brenda Day who wants to prove to Eugenia Sherwood, director of the Community Players, that she can act so she will get the leading role in the big Festival Play. Then along comes Professor Cornelius Kent with a real, live Cannibal Queen. Bruce pounces on the startling news. He learns that Allen accepted money from the professor but came back without the queen. There was a queen all right, but she was fat and forty, with six husbands.

So Bruce, to hold his job, induces Brenda to become the queen. He pays Daisy Mae and Lucious to get dressed in native costumes and act as the queen's bodyguard and handmaiden. Everything works out all right until the real Cannibal Queen shows up. She has followed Allen from the Solomons! Brenda makes a realistic cannibal, especially when she wants to eat Mildred Wade, Allen's sweetheart, and takes a liking to Robert and wants to cook and eat him for dinner also! Mary Fremont, Robert's wife and Professor Kent's niece is co-heir with Allen Kent for the Professor's money and makes it interesting for Bruce and Allen try to expose their scheme.

On Stage as Juniors!

ON April 14, 1944, the Class of '45 presented the Junior play, "A Mind of Her Own." The cast was as follows:

Bunny	Lois Tomlinson
Her father	Dick Carpenter
Her mother	Donna Keefer
Steve, the "one man"	Amos Snyder
Lizzie, the maid	Donna Dielman
Tommy, Bunny's brother	Gene Campbell
Carol, the girl from the city	Iris Webster
Nettie, Bunny's sister	Florabelle Dixon
Delphine	Dorothy Camp
Jessica	Ruth Hagerty
Mrs. Phelps	Joan Houck
Hugh	Jim Sudborough
Miss Flora	Velma Call
Directed by	Mrs. Prue Oberlin

Bunny's efforts to imitate everybody, land the family in a dither of trouble that would be serious if it weren't so funny. A guest arrives who is mighty important to a big deal that Dad is making. At the same time, Jessica comes posing in—a blase woman-of-the-world—at the age of 18! Bunny starts imitating Jessica, quite unaware that Jessica is tricking her out of good old Steve. Jessica is so down-right impossible that young Tommie and Nettie lay plans to get rid of her—they will get her to sit on a hot-pad, trip over a string, and have flour cascade on her head. Meanwhile, the important guest has been most unfavorably impressed by the uproarious antics of the family, and Jessica hasn't helped any by misinterpreting a canceled check into the idea that Bunny's father is bankrupt. Bunny falls for this and stakes everything on an emotional appeal to the guest that her father is bankrupt, but this deal will make him solid again—and so. . . And the guest sits on the hot-pad and gets flour on her head! Of course, the deal is off! Then Bunny comes to herself—and a delightful and very real self it is, when finally she discovers it.

You May Laugh, If You Wish

Mr. Price: "Did you ever take chloroform?"
Florabelle: "No, who teaches it?"

Junior P.: "Did Edison make the first talking machine, father?"
Mr. Price: "No, my son, God made the first talking machine, but Edison made the first one you could shut off."

Velma C.: "Oh, dear, I left my watch upon my dresser and I don't want to run up after it."
Dorothy: "Well, if you wait long enough, it will run down."

Mrs. Spake: "Why were you late this morning, Ruth?"
Ruth Houser: "School started before I got here."

Mr. McCrory: "Now, class, who is the Speaker of the House?"
Donna D.: "At our house, it's Mom."

As Ruth Hagerty entered the office to get a late slip Mrs. Spake said, "Ruth, you should have been here at 8:30."
Ruth replied: "Why, what happened?"

Miss Allmann: "Name a great time saver."
Frances W.: "Love at first sight."

Donna K.: "What's that I smell?"
Mr. Berg: "That's fertilizer."
Donna K.: "For land's sake."
Mr. Berg: "That's right."

Marilou S. (Pointing to a wild plant by the wayside): "What's that?"
Leon: "That's a milkweed."
Marilou: "Oh yes, that's what you feed cows on."

Mrs. Oberlin: "Charles, give me a sentence containing flippancy."
Charles Lott (After some thought): "Let's flip "n" see whether I pass or flunk."

Mr. Berg: "What can you tell me about nitrate?"
Rosemary: "Well-er—it's lots cheaper than day-rate."

Mrs. Centa: "Louise, give me three collective nouns."
Louise: "Fly-paper, waste-basket, and garbage can."

Joan H.: "Here's a lovely sentiment. To my Valentine, the only girl I love."
Verl: "Fine—I'll take five—no, six of them."

1944-1945

IN the annals of history the year of 1944-45 will surely stand out in bold relief. In this year our armed forces through courageous fighting have brought us nearer and nearer to Victory and the Peace we long for.

During this school year our nation has lost her President, Franklin Delano Roosevelt. In our community we have sensed deeply, too, the loss of several of Butler's young men who have sacrificed their lives for home and country.

In spite of war and grief Butler has carried on. At school the P. T. A. has sponsored an effective and appreciated school lunch program. The P. T. A. also arranged instructive programs with competent speakers, who addressed interested persons on issues vital to the rearing of children.

And this was the Year of the Big Snow! Snow-drifted roads brought us a vacation from Dec. 12-15. The Senior Play was postponed. For weeks and weeks the school buses struggled to get through the almost impassable country roads.

Then March came along with unheard-of summer-like days. Trees and flowers came into bloom way ahead of schedule. The Juniors sponsored the successful dance-party in the gym.

April brought rainy days. The Juniors were rehearsing their class play "The Student Queen" scheduled for presentation on May 4. Now as the close of school nears, the Seniors are planning for the closing activities of their high school careers. Baccalaureate is on May 20; then follows Skip Day, Class Day, Award Day and finally Commencement on May 23. Dr. Clement T. Malan, State Superintendent of Public Instruction has been engaged as the speaker.

Then it's May 25—the last day of school—the end of another year. May better and happier days be ahead for all of us.

More Jokes!

Mr. Unger: "Have you got a good head for figures?"
Amos: "No, as soon as I see a good figure I lose my head."

Donelda C.: "Talking is my only enjoyment."
Irene B.: "Then you must have one continual round of pleasure."

Mr. Wood: "You may leave the room."
Dick C.: "I didn't intend to take it with me."

Mr. McCrory: "Ina, what is a cannibal?"
Ina: "I don't know."
Mr. McCrory: "Well, if you ate your father and mother, what would you be?"
Ina: "I'd be an orphan."

Jeanette: "Who is your favorite author?"
Donna Hinshaw: "Father."
Jeanette: "What did he write?"
Donna H.: "Checks."
